Kerry works for the Cumberland Building Society who, as a regional company, support their local communities. She has experience of managing & developing staff and processing mortgage applications.

Later, Will worked for 10 years as a system engineer dealing directly with front line issues, with considerable time spent off site with key tier one suppliers, looking at technical concerns and proposed modifications.

David Tromans

David trained at Carnegie College in Leeds and began his career at Knottingley High School and Sports College, Wakefield, West Yorkshire, where he was appointed as Director of Sport. In addition to his school responsibilities he worked closely with Wakefield Local Authority to initiate and lead the School Sports Programme and the development of sports facilities through the New Opportunities Fund. Subsequently, he was appointed to the role of Deputy Head Teacher with a remit to improve the standard of Teaching and Learning and to improve school performance, both of which he successfully did.

David was appointed as Deputy Headteacher at Ullswater Community College in Penrith in 2010 with the same remit. This too led to transformative improvement in the school's performance as it became one of the leading schools in Cumbria and achieved the first ‘Good’ judgement from Ofsted in its history.

Throughout David’ s career he has been an advocate of extracurricular activities, taking sports teams, outdoor and adventurous experiences, cultural visits, residential and overseas trips. One of his highlights was an invitation to Buckingham Palace for a Queen’ s garden party for the 50 year anniversary of the Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme.

He is married to a Cumbrian and has three children, one of whom was born in the county - his wife will proudly declare that she is a Cumbrian.
